

8 Reasons to Transition to Stanson's PAMA Solution

Advanced imaging services will start impacting your Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services' (CMS) reimbursements on Jan. 1, 2022.¹ Transition to Stanson's smart, provider-friendly Protecting Access to Medicare Act of 2014 (PAMA) solution from a legacy solution, and the first year is on us.

1 Benefits Beyond PAMA Compliance

Our solution does more than check a box. Driven by artificial intelligence (AI), it helps the provider through guided clinical decision care support through the electronic health record (EHR) workflow with an easy, intuitive provider experience that is designed to result in improved quality and cost of care.

2 Experienced Partner

We have expertise in transitioning health systems from legacy PAMA solutions and can help guide your teams and support the switch with minimal to no interruption – all while your legacy solution is running in the background. We make the switch when you're ready.

3 Custom Approach

Our implementation team will partner with you to create a tailored transition plan including mapping, building and testing. Providers should estimate approximately 150 hours (four months) of IT work for the transition, excluding legacy product removal.

4 Data Delivery

Our PAMA solution is designed to minimize provider interruptions, help avoid penalties and simplify implementation. We use EHR data to provide clinical decision support (CDS), not just imaging selection, to enhance the provider workflow.

5 Smart CDS

Indications-based picklists may be cumbersome for providers, leading to underutilized and less effective CDS. Our PAMA solution uses natural language processing (NLP) and machine learning (ML) right in the EHR workflow.

6 Transition Support

We can guide you and help identify the steps to transition including documentation on transitioning from picklists to free-form text and offering suggestions on necessary reviews and approvals to proceed.

7 User Experience

More than 200,000 providers meet the PAMA mandate with our advanced imaging solution.² It's a fully qualified, provider-friendly CDS technology that can help meet the appropriate use criteria (AUC) and comply with the PAMA mandate.

8 No Fees for the First Year*

Providers may be concerned with justifying the expense of a second PAMA solution until the existing contract can be canceled. We want to help during these tough financial times, so we're offering the first year at no cost when you transition from a legacy solution.*
